

Issues of representation & display for the curation of “difficult” objects in the aftermath of violence

“Curatorial Dreaming” Session

Monday, November 16

10-11:30am (USA Central)

Zoom Address: <https://utexas.zoom.us/j/95173334032>

This meeting is free and open to all.

Join us for a “curatorial dreaming” session in which visiting professor and museum curator Dr. Erica Lehrer leads us in a process of prototyping curatorial solutions to the representation and display of three or four ‘difficult objects’ from faculty exhibitions, research, and public projects. Dr. Lehrer will be joined by Suzy Seriff, Ricardo Velasco, and others in this roundtable session.

Professor Erica Lehrer (Concordia University, Montréal) is delivering the Gale Family Foundation Fall Lecture on November 15th at 5pm. More details are available at the Schusterman Center website (<https://liberalarts.utexas.edu/scjs>).

This event is sponsored by The Schusterman Center for Jewish Studies, the Bureau for Experimental Ethnography, the Humanities Institute, and the Department of Anthropology.
